

4
CLAIMS

1. A method for scheduling scarce, nonrenewable resources, the method comprising:
 - defining a state vector;
 - defining a cost-to-go function; and
 - using Bellman's principle of optimality, optimizing the scheduling by optimally ordering the resources by a weighting function.